RELATING THE AUDITORS' REPORT TO FINANCIAL PRESENTATION DEPARTURES

The question numbers coded A, B, C, D & M relate to the questions in the checklist for which "no" answers may be indicative of financial presentation departures which, if significant enough, require an Auditors' Report modification. Checklist questions answered "no" with these codes indicate financial presentation departures as follows:

- A. missing statement(s).
- B. missing fund type
- C. component unit disclosure omissions.
- D. other significant reporting exceptions.
- M. Management Discussion and Analysis deficiencies

Some of the questions are significant individually, so that a "no" answer signals that a modification to the opinion would be expected. That would apply to most of the questions coded A or B. For others, mainly the ones coded C or D, while individual "no" answers represent important errors of commission or omission, they may not require a modification unless there is a cumulative effect from several questions on a common topic. The reviewer will have to exercise judgment as to the significance of the individual or cumulative errors.
